Land Grabbing and Migration in a Changing Climate

Comparative Perspectives from Senegal and Cambodia

Sara Vigil

While the impacts of environmental change on migration, and of environmental discourses on land grabs, have received increased attention, the role of both environmental and migration narratives in shaping migration by modifying access to natural resources has remained under-explored. Using a variegated geopolitical ecology framework and a comparative global ethnographic approach, this book analyses the power of mainstream adaptation and security frameworks and how they impact the lives of marginalized and vulnerable communities in Senegal and Cambodia.

"The issue of land grabbing does not get the attention it deserves. With this book, Sara Vigil redresses this wrong and shows how land grabs can happen in the name of adaptation to climate change. The book is truly an eye-opener on the plight of those dispossessed of their land."
